

Do not reverse this law. I am tired of being bothered at dinner time and having telemarketers interfere with my family time. When I am home I do not want to be bothered with trivial things. If there is anything these marketers have that I want I will approach them. It is very unprofessional to not take no for an answer and to continue to be bothered by people who have already been told no